

Keep On In Spite Of Defeat . . .

By

The Cheerful
Philosopher

ARE YOU interested in politics? That's a mighty good way to get your mind off real or imaginary troubles. Every day, from now until next June when the two great National conventions are held, there will be much to interest, lots to amuse us. If you have a sense of humor you will read plenty that will cause you to smile. For instance, the way a pulsating, anxious public pictured by these gentlemen as crying out to Senators Borah and Johnson to please "save our country" by allowing themselves to be made the standard bearers of the Republican party. For the past two decades each has had a new kind of lightning rod placed in the most vulnerable positions, and "Jim" Read is also wandering about, in daylight and dark, with his overworked megaphone hunting the Democratic lightning-bug. If anyone imagines that good old "Al" Smith will do anything but fight to the last ditch, just wait and see. But although Governor Roosevelt seems away in front, make a small cross in your hat, under the name "Ritchey." Keep that name in mind and watch it grow as the time for the Democratic convention approaches. Ritchey is a fine man—a gentleman.

"AT THE END OF THE TRAIL"

Don't fret and fume if your work goes wrong. You'll never succeed that way. But try again with a stouter heart. In the light of another day, it's always the man with the sunny face. It's ever the man with a smile, who can brave disappointment, e'en defeat. Singing and working the while, Who finds at last, when the sun goes down, And he sums up his loss and his gain, That it isn't always the one who achieves, But the one who has suffered pain. Of seeing his castles fall down at his feet. Yet he has the grit to arise And keep on in spite of defeat, And struggle again for the prize. The one who has shouldered his neighbor's load, While battling 'gainst odds with his own, Who can bravely talk on the things he has missed With never a sigh or a moan.

Then, brother, show not the craven heart. When your plans go awry or fail: Remember it's what you have borne and done That counts at the end of the trail.

ANOTHER GOOD SHOW BILLED BY THE P. T. A.

The popular Saturday afternoon moving picture show in the grammar school auditorium, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Association will include "Napoleon Jr.," an "Our Gang" comedy, "Felix in Fairyland" and "Children of Japan," on this week's program.

Observations

—By LEE SHIPPEY—

I wish I was smart enough to make good home brew, and I've even met bootleggers for whom there was some excuse. But there are some folks in this community so lowdown and foul that they could crawl under a skunk and the only one to shrink and hold his nose would be the skunk. They are the ones who put temptation in the way of good and valuable citizens who sincerely want to overcome the drink habit but can stand anything except temptation. When you put temptation before those poor devils you not only bring them to ruin but bring shame and heartache and eventually poverty to their wives and children. We ought to have a secret committee to raise funds to ferret those skunks out with private detectives, if the regular officers can't do it, and I'll be one to make a donation, even if I have to cut out the Red Cross and the Legion party to do it.

But nobody ought to cut out the Red Cross and the Legion party, who doesn't absolutely have to. This is a time when you show what's in you—you just are decent at heart or you aren't. If you are you'll give up something you want darned bad, and give the money to help those who need it more.

Work For Many Men In Big City Project

Firemen To Bring Santa Claus Here

Men Vote Unanimously To Carry Christmas Spirit Into Many More Homes

SANTA CLAUS will make his usual visit to Sierra Madre. The Volunteer Fire Department voted unanimously and emphatically on Friday to set the stage for him with the usual community celebration in honor of his coming, with the community tree, treat for the children, distribution of baskets among the least fortunate families and, of course, the Firemen's annual dance with which to raise the funds necessary for the series of events that makes the whole city glad.

For weeks the firemen had pondered over the advisability of going through with their big annual event this year, though without exception they believed it would be a mistake this of all years to abandon the undertaking they have so successfully staged for the past 11 seasons.

To get the sentiment of the folks who make the event possible through their contributions, many of the regular contributors were interviewed. They were practically unanimous, the firemen report, in favor of having the holiday party this year. In most instances contributors gave assurance that their contributions toward the fund for the treat would in nowise affect their donations to the community relief or Red Cross funds. It would be particularly unfortunate, many thought, if the holiday spirit that the community celebration inspires were missing this year when everyone should look up and forward.

The firemen left no doubt but that they will work harder than ever to make the party a success. The baskets to be distributed may contain more necessities and fewer dainties than heretofore, they said, but they will strive mightily to see that there are more of them to brighten up the holiday season in homes that would otherwise have no Christmas.

Superior Judge Is On 'Father's Night' Program Of P. T. A.

A "Father's Night" program will be sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Association at the school auditorium Wednesday night, November 18.

Judge Robert H. Scott of the superior court will be the speaker of the evening. His topic will be "Training Successful Citizens." Dave and Jack Buchan, members of the Community Players, will present a humorous skit. Musical numbers will complete the program.

Mothers, brothers and sisters as well as "dads" are invited. Several teachers will be on duty that night to take care of small children in another part of the building in order that all parents may take advantage of the interesting program.

TWELVE YEAR OLD BOY STEALS ENOUGH DYNAMITE TO BLOW UP A CITY BUSINESS BLOCK

Enough dynamite to blow up a city business block, stolen from the supply tent of the contractor paving Canyon park roads, was recovered from a 12-year old boy on Friday after he had lugged the stuff about the city for almost a whole day.

Several of his playmates and the boy himself owe their lives to the fact that the explosive was

Description Of City's New Retreat Will Go On The Air

Father Edmund Walsh, C.P., architect and engineer-in-charge of the construction of the Passionist Fathers' Retreat and Monastery on Monte Oliva will speak over KGER, Long Beach, Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. "Laymen's Retreat" will be the general subject of Father Walsh's talk, which will be a feature of St. Anthony's Hour, a regular Sunday night program. Father Walsh will describe the retreat movement in America, and tell in particular of the Monte Oliva Retreat.

According to Father Walsh, Sierra Madre is receiving widespread publicity through the location here of the retreat. Catholics from many towns are daily visiting the site of the new mission-style building.

George Hapgood Is Seriously Injured In Auto Accident

George Hapgood of 24 North Hermosa avenue, was seriously injured late Wednesday night when his car plunged into a deep culvert that is being built across Foothill just west of Rosemead boulevard. Mr. Hapgood was returning to Sierra Madre on Foothill when he ran into the culvert, which, according to witnesses, was without lighted danger signals.

Mr. Hapgood is in the Sawtelle Soldiers Hospital with two broken legs and several cracked ribs. He was taken there after emergency treatment at the Pasadena Hospital.

The injured war veteran will probably be confined to the hospital for several months, his mother, Mrs. Nettie Hapgood, was informed yesterday.

Whole City To Pause At Stroke Of 11

Simple Observance Of Armistice Day With All Business Suspended

All Sierra Madre will pause for a minute at 11 o'clock next Wednesday as a tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

Business will be completely suspended in the city throughout Armistice Day. All stores, the bank, City Hall and Postoffice will be closed.

Observance of the Day will be extremely simple. Shortly before 11 o'clock a squad from the local American Legion Post will march to Baldwin and Central avenue. Taps will be sounded at the stroke of 11. A minute of silence will follow, then the colors will be raised to the accompaniment of bugle calls.

In the evening at 8 o'clock in the Women's Club House a carnival, card party and dance will be sponsored by the Legion in conjunction with its Auxiliary.

The Club House will be gaily decorated. Vincent Fleming, chairman of the entertainment committee, and his five associates, Mrs. Louise Roe, Mrs. Lillian Wheeling, Mrs. Lucille Pickett, Commander Arthur Embree and Arthur Evans, will receive the guests.

Young folks as well as adults are invited to the affair, which will include door prizes, novel refreshments, prizes for bridge and 500, and entertainment. A well-known dance orchestra has been engaged for the evening.

In the Olympic Stadium, beginning at 9:30 Wednesday morning, a two-hour program has been planned by Los Angeles Legionnaires. A parade, conducted by messed bands, short talks by well-known citizens, and an airplane exhibition will be featured.

Trade Body Endorses Convict Registration

Endorsement of the proposed Los Angeles County ordinance requiring persons convicted of felonies to register with the sheriff was voted by the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

Ballots were ordered out for the annual election at which five members of the Board of Directors will be chosen.

Roman Tells Conditions Among Reds

In the 44 days he spent in Russia last summer Dr. Frederic W. Roman did not see the rosy picture of Communism painted by George Bernard Shaw after the recent flying trip he made into the land of the Reds with Lady Astor. Dr. Roman told the Sierra Madre Forum on Wednesday night.

Indeed, Dr. Roman said, in telling of his experiences, he was much less optimistic about the outcome of the governmental experiment through which the Soviets are passing than he was after his first visit to Russia two years ago. Dr. Roman traveled 4,000 miles through Russia, stopping in many cities and towns and making an intimate study of wages, living conditions and the mental attitude of the inhabitants. His observations were greatly at variance with the hastily formed opinions of the eccentric, sharp-tongued Mr. Shaw.

Dr. Roman found great unemployment, excessive living costs, millions hungry and a constant battle for the barest comforts of life, in contrast with the Utopian conditions reported by Shaw.

There was a large attendance at the first Forum session of the year and a sufficient amount was subscribed to guarantee continuance of the semi-monthly meetings throughout the Winter and Spring, to which the public will be invited.

Following Dr. Roman's discussion on the situation in Russia there was an interesting open discussion on the result of the recent English elections and at the next meeting on November 18 Dr. Roman will continue his observations on Russia.

Fine Tribute Paid Memory Of F B Seeley

Six Past Masters Of Masonic Lodge Carry Veteran To Last Resting Place

His last resting place in Sierra Madre Cemetery piled high with floral tributes gave evidence of the esteem and affection in which the late Frank B. Seeley was held by the people among whom he lived so peacefully and simply during the last score of his 92 years.

The funeral of Sierra Madre's oldest citizen, war veteran and Mason at Grant Funeral home on Saturday was attended by practically all of the older residents. The service, conducted by Rev. A. G. H. Bode, of the Church of the Ascension, was simple and impressive.

Mr. Seeley became a Mason shortly after he was mustered out of the army at the close of the Civil War and services at the cemetery were in charge of the Masonic lodge, with Worshipful Master Jack Buchanan conducting. George B. Morgridge acted as chaplain and the pallbearers were six past Masters of the lodge, H. E. Allen, C. W. Jones, W. E. Evans, J. N. Hawks, C. J. Pegler and C. L. Twycross.

First Day's Work In Many Months Fatal To Road Employee

Swinging a pick on the first day he had worked in many months was too much for Clay Jean, of Covina, who was assigned a job on the Santa Anita extension into the mountains Monday morning. His vitality greatly lowered from months of anxiety and undernourishment, he dropped dead near the construction tent on East Grand View avenue at quitting time.

Doubles Match Will Open Local Tennis Tournament Sunday

Randolph Wood and Homer Tuttle will oppose Les Miller and Fred Perry Sunday morning at 9:45 in the first doubles match of the Sierra Madre Tennis Tournament. The encounter will take place on the courts at Central Park.

Wood and Tuttle are favored by experts to win the men's doubles, as they have played together for some time. They recently took high position in the Monrovia tennis tournament.

In the singles play Wood draws a bye, being last year's champ. Emile Smith will meet Fred Perry in a singles match Sunday. An early match will also be played between Frank Burroughs and Les Miller. Two out of three games will settle all matches.

Exhibition Brings Many Artists Here

Southland Critics And Students At Reception In City's Little Gallery

Artists, art students and critics from many cities of the San Gabriel Valley, Pasadena and Los Angeles joined with the townsfolk at the Little Gallery in the City Hall last night in a reception to art notables marking the formal opening of the City's November art exhibition, consisting of the works of Theodore B. Modra and E. Keith Harkness.

Honor guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Harkness, Mrs. Modra, and Miss Juanita Garfias, whose portrait by Mr. Modra is in exhibition. Mrs. Harkness is district chairman of Art for the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Assisting Mrs. Fred Griebonow, art chairman for the Little Gallery at the reception, were Mrs. Henry Ivins Hawthurst, Mrs. Al. Robertson, Mrs. W. S. Hull, Mrs. E. E. Bacon and Miss Harriet Grant.

Of special interest to the visitors was the painting "In The Patio," a portrait of Miss Garfias, by Mr. Harkness.

The painting, thought to be securely fastened to the top of Mrs. Griebonow's automobile for its transportation to the gallery, was lost from the car between Sierra Madre and Los Angeles on Sunday night. It was found by a pedestrian where it had fallen from the car on Colorado street, Pasadena. Two automobiles had run over the picture but only the frame was injured. The $1500 painting was recovered Tuesday night by Mrs. Griebonow and brought to the gallery.

A small sculpture by Mr. Harkness, a bust of John Muir, the great California naturalist, which has won wide acclaim for its likeness to the man, is on exhibition.

Mr. Modra was a noted figure in the Southland. He was judged to be the best water colorist on the Pacific Coast. His untimely death last year was a great shock to the art world. His display of water colors is in the nature of a memorial exhibition.

A deputy coroner who was summoned said death had been caused by heart failure probably superinduced by over exertion and the Grant company's ambulance removed the body to the man's home in Covina, in which city he registered several months ago for employment on public or other work. His name was not reached on the long list of men seeking jobs until this week.

Jeany's death brought an unsolicited suggestion from the coroner's office that care be exercised in the assignment of physically unfit unemployed citizens to the more strenuous features of the various public works being originated to furnish employment.

RELIEF COMMITTEE PROPOSES PAVING OF ALL DIRT STREETS

Improvement Of City's Appearance And Increased Property Values Provided At Minimum Cost As Work Is Stripped Of All Engineering And Legal Costs

An unemployment relief plan that would at once guarantee employment for many men over a long period, greatly improve property values and the city's appearance and be a boon to the city in many other respects has been worked out at conferences between the executive committee of the city's central relief committee, City Business Manager Al S. Myers and members of the City Council.

It looks to the paving at a ridiculously low price of approximately five and a half miles of unpaved highways within the city limits and a reduction in the city's operating expenses by eliminating the annual reconconditioning of these thoroughfares following each rainy season.

Business Manager Myers has advised the relief committee that the work can be done by the city, with its own workmen, at about one cent a square foot, in which case the owner of a 50-foot lot on the average 30-foot street would be assessed about $7.50 for the great, city-wide improvement.

The number of men to be employed, of course, would depend upon the number of streets to be improved and to what length.

The streets, when completed, would be of the same character as North Baldwin avenue, and, according to Mr. Myers, would give service without the cost of repairs, for from eight to ten years.

The paving of any street would be initiated on petition of the owners of property fronting on the thoroughfare.

The petitions will be circulated by members of the central relief committee.

Since it is proposed to strip the work of all legal red tape, engineering and legal costs which would greatly increase the cost, it will not suffice that a majority of the property owners sign up in order to start the work on any particular thoroughfare. All must sign, whereas in all paving jobs authorized in the regular way and for which a contract is awarded, it requires but a 51 per cent petition of the affected property owners.

It is largely through the elimination of these various costs as an emergency relief measure that it is possible to secure the work done for the estimated cost submitted.

Petitions for several streets will be placed in circulation at once and members of the relief executive committee believe the work will be under way in less than thirty days.

It is understood, to be sure, that only local men who have

Red Cross Money To Be Spent Here

The Red Cross Roll Call got off to a flying start Tuesday morning with a simple breakfast at the Parish House of the Church of the Ascension during which the final details of the campaign were discussed.

W. R. Humphries, executive chairman, made an inspiring talk to the workers. He especially urged them to make plain to every one with whom they talked that the local chapter's share of the money raised was all to be used for local relief here in Sierra Madre.

This year there is to be a house to house canvass as was done in war days. One of the leaders stated, "These are war days—war against hunger and cold and suffering amongst our own people; a war which must be fought with food and clothing, employment for the idle and understanding sympathy for the unfortunate. We hope for as wholehearted a response as we met with in those other war days."

If enthusiasm among the canvassers counts for anything, the campaign should be an overwhelming success.

Many touching incidents occur every day at headquarters and wonderful instances of thoughtfulness for others. There was the case of the disabled service man, confined to his bed, who sent in five dollars from his restricted income "to help some other chap worse off than I am. It is the only way I can help."

And then a young fellow, really just a boy, comes shyly in and says to the secretary: "You know proved a bona fide residence in Sierra Madre through their registration certificates would be eligible to receive employment under the plan, since it is offered as a purely local relief measure.

It is estimated that, as the program has been worked out, a thoroughly good oiled street can be provided for the five and one half miles of dirt streets for approximately $10,000 without touching the general fund or resorting to a bond issue.

Joseph E. Weber, one of the active members of the committee, in commenting on the plan said: "There are many unimproved streets in this city, and parts of some streets are improved while other parts are not."

"They are dusty and unpleasant in the dry months but the property owners have balked at the idea of improvement proceedings and bonds with all the resulting overhead expense, and one can't blame them."

"The committee proposes that all this overhead be eliminated and a cheap oil and gravel surfacing job, which will last eight or ten years, be done by the city street department. Details have been carefully canvassed with the hearty cooperation of the city business manager, and the committee feels confident the work can be done for a most reasonable sum, probably not over 15 cents a front foot."

"We have been informed that one of the largest cost items in the street department budget is the maintenance work done each year on unimproved streets. The improved streets have very little maintenance cost."

"The proposed oil and gravel surfacing will save the taxpayers this maintenance expense, it will improve the appearance of the

Two Local Boys Are Injured In Auto Crash At San Pedro

James Daily of 694 W. Alegria avenue and Tom Roe of 288 Mariposa avenue were injured early Wednesday morning in an automobile accident, as they were traveling to Sierra Madre from San Pedro.

Roe had driven to the harbor to pick up Daily, who is on a short furlough from his navy ship. Returning, Daily, who was driving his own car, collided head-on with another automobile in a dense fog. The accident rendered Roe unconscious for an hour and Daily lost several front teeth. The Daily car was almost a total wreck.

The boys are confined to their homes.

JUMPS OVER TO MAINE TO SEE NEW BRIDGE: TWY-CROSS BACK HOME

S. R. G. Twycross of 139 South Baldwin avenue, returned last evening from a three-week's visit with his sister, Mrs. L. G. Paul, at his old home in Cedar Grove, Me. One of the inducements, which caused Mr. Twycross to make the long trip across the continent to Maine, was the opportunity to cross the new bridge which connects Dresden and Richmond and replaces the old ferry boats used for many years. Major Benjamin Goodwin, grandfather of Mr. Twycross, who was in the war of 1812, used the ferry.

HOT LEAD

By Judge W. R. Lasater

VINCENT FLEMING, subject of this week's Legionnaire thumb-nail sketch, is a Past Commander of post 297. He entered the service with the high plane mechanic, December 14, 1918. He took oath in Philadelphia, his home city, was shipped to Fort Slocum, N. Y., and from there to Kelly Field, Texas, where he received his preliminary training. Newport News, Virginia, was his next destination. He embarked from Hoboken, N. Y., in May, 1918, for Liverpool, England, thence to London, then to Stamford, England, an aeronautical training camp, where he remained until the signing of the armistice.

Aspiring to be a pilot he took an examination and had a crack-up and on June 2 withdrew his application, returning to the States in December aboard the "Cedric, landing at Hoboken. He was discharged at Mineola, N. Y., December 23, 1919.

Our Comrade is the proprietor of the Sierra Madre Feed and Fuel Co., where a goodly line of bird seed, fertilizer and other things good for "man or beast" are on sale. His known hobbies are too numerous to mention and change with the weather.

Several of the local comrades who attended an Armistice Day program-banquet give by Pasadena Post 13, took Ezra along to lend dignity and respectability to the party. Everything wroked beautifully until Ezra dropped off to sleep and snored loudly through the balance of the program.

CHEVALIER COMING BACK TO THE ARCADIA

When "The Spider" was presented as a play on the Broadway stage, it sent a galvanic shock through the theatre-going public. In the moving picture version of this celebrated play, which Janet Malbon's Arcadia Theatre will show this evening and Saturday, all the original shock devices and surprise tricks are retained with a number of others that the screen alone can present. Lois Moran is by the side of Edmund Lowe in the featured feminine lead. Others in the case include El Brendel, George E. Stone and Earle Foxe.

Nancy Carroll has two leading men in her latest starring picture, "Personal Maid," which will be presented Sunday and Monday.

at Christmas each year the Red Cross has been so kind and sent Mother and me a basket of good things. We certainly appreciated it. But I am able to work more now. I have some regular jobs, and Mother and I talked it over and we think there must be others here who will need the basket more than we will this Christmas, so we want you to take our name off the list and give it to some one else. We haven't any money to give but we can help this much."

Mrs. Buehring, the secretary, said today, "With such a wonderful spirit evident among those who not well off, we feel that the response from the more well to do must be and will be most generous."

"It is encouraging to see how very little attempt there is to take unfair advantage of the aid offered by this bureau. We find that those asking for assistance are in the greatest need of it before they apply, and then they are anxious to work to repay the obligation."

"As an example, the other day we had an old gentleman, nearly eighty, who was pathetically eager to be given work, any work, to earn a few dollars. Inquiry showed he and his wife were living in a tiny house and a relative was able to spare them enough for the light and gas and water bills, but they were down to their last meal and no money to buy food!"

"It is terrible to think that good, industrious, upright men and women, 60, 70, 80 years old, through no fault of their own, are facing such conditions. It is hard enough to find work these days for the well and strong. It is practically impossible to find enough of the right kind of work for these older ones to support themselves."

WORK FOR THE UNEMPLOYED PAVING STREETS

city and will increase the property values on those streets, and, best of all, it will provide work for some of Sierra Madre's unemployed.

"We will be following out President Hoover's suggestion that each community develop work to care for its unemployed, and his most sensible advice that red tape be cut and the jobs done."

"The cost will be so small that it will not, in any sense, be a heavy load on any property owner. In a few cases, it may be possible to have the property owner work out his share. In a very few cases it may be necessary and possible to arrange for a partial payment plan, but of course the bulk of the improvement must be on a cash payment basis. The low cost is figured on that basis."

"This matter will be left to the property owners themselves but I am frank to say I am most enthusiastic over the prospect and hope very shortly to have the necessary papers ready for signature."

tures for one street on which is a church building in which I am much interested. It looks like a mighty good proposition for the city as a whole and for the individual property owners."

Two Crack Teams Will Open Local Season With Game On Monday Night

Sierra Madre will officially start its night basketball league games Monday night when the Ice Company Stars meet the Post Office Carriers in the gymnasium of the Congregational Church.

The game will start promptly at 8 o'clock and admission will be free.

Made up almost entirely of junior college stars, with the exception of Herb Munson, the Ice-men are hoped to take the game with honors.

According to Emile Smith, head of Uncle Sam's men, their line-up will consist of Frank Burroughs, who was a featured L.A.A.C. hoop star, Harry Draman, Fred LaLone, Frank Lichnog, Ed Sanchez, "Joby" Klugin and Smith, himself.

The Ice-men's first string line-up will include Carl Young, Rudy Lichnog, Jack Jensen, Leroy McBurney and Craig McLaughlin, who undoubtedly will act as center.

Other league teams are now being formed by various organizations. Practice will be held at the gymnasium on Monday and Tuesday nights before games. Out-of-town teams will be challenged by an All-Star aggregation, to be made up from the local league clubs.

Anyone who desires to be a member of a team, may do so by getting in touch with Emile Smith at the post office.

PLANNING SUMMER JOY IN THE FALL AND WINTER

Planning the outdoor living room takes a great deal of thought and it is not easy to find time for careful thought in the busy spring season. Then tasks crowd upon us, always more than there is time to do. We understand then what an advantage one has who plans his season's work in detail during the fall when there is time to think.

A PART OF EVERY MODERN HOME

The first step in planning, we are often told, is to form a comprehensive idea of the garden room we will make. Just what does this mean? We would know, if it were a house we were planning—how many rooms, what style of architecture, the chief materials to be used. A house is standardized; our ideas are well fixed. The function of the garden is, however, less well known to us.

Just what part do we wish our garden to play in relation to the home? Is it to be merely the ornamental exterior of the house, the outside dress of the home? Or is it to be the outdoors of the home, a living room with carpet of grass, a ceiling of blue sky, and decorations of flowers, into which family and guests may enter without feeling that they are going outside. The owner's attitude toward his garden means everything in its development.

The conception of the garden as an intimate part of the home is growing. It is coming as the use of screened porches came, in our house architecture. We moved from the inside rooms to the screened porch in summer, and now we are moving from the porch to the garden and finding Combined shipments from California and Florida for the 1930-31 season were the heaviest in the history of the two states. Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of California Fruit Growers Exchange, declares, and it has only been through controlled, regulated shipments that the industry has been able to cope with marketing of the record crop.

Early estimates indicate that the national citrus yield for the new 1931-32 season will be somewhat lighter, with possibility of a reduction of approximately 5,000,000 boxes in Florida shipments. California and Arizona grapefruit production is expected to show an increase, however, while Texas citrus production, which has shown a tremendous gain in recent years, will probably top all former records.

California agriculture has a new "million dollar baby"—the calavo and avocado industry.

The infant industry, under chaperonage of the Calavo Growers of California, reports handling more than $1,250,000 worth of calavos and avocados during the season just ended, with a record crop anticipated for the new season.

Membership in the new cooperative has increased 50 per cent since last fall, the association announces, and a large share of the next crop is to be marketed nationally.

California farmers are continuing to show their faith in the slogan, "It pays to irrigate!" The state's irrigated area, according to Hyatt's survey, has increased 12½ per cent in the last 10 years, with a total of 4,731,632 acres reported under irrigation this year.

it possible to live outdoors in comfort and pleasure amid surroundings of ordered beauty.

The home owner who accepts this conception and determines to build an outdoor living room will still have to compromise with the older idea, however, and decorate one portion of the grounds for public display. This is the front yard, which in our American suburbs is to all practical purposes part of the street, as much so as the parkway. It its axes need to be indicated, so that its occupants may not be made uneasy as in a house interior with unmatched windows and uneven walls. For purpose of privacy and appearance the garden room needs to be screened from outside view and from many views out, since there are few back yards where the surrounding spectacles are all attractive. This screen may be provided by trees and shrubs, or by a wall or fence.

Given the essentials of design and boundaries, the decorations of the outdoor living room become a matter of the owner's taste.

Boy Scouts Find Way To Make Their Spending Money Really Worth While

By FRANCES EAKMAN

"Hey Bill," shouted Tom one Saturday morning. "Can you go to the show this after? It's Huck Finn!"

"Sure!" Bill's voice rang cheerily. Like all boys he looked forward to Saturday, and this was a particular one. He would have a peach of a time at the show, and how—

Tom hurriedly dragged the lawn mower from the garage. Dad had insisted that he earn his spending money. He whistled cheerily as the little green blades flew about. A short time later a hot disheveled boy rushed into the bathroom and jumped into the tub. Then followed a hastily swallowed luncheon.

"Hey, Mom, where's my blue shirt?" Tom was 12 . . . and . . . a Boy Scout. He had grown particular about clean shirts and such things.

"In a minute Tommy," mother's voice came from the basement. "What are you doing, Mom?" called Tom as he dashed down the basement steps. "Please hustle, I'm in a hurry!"

Mother was busy packing things in a barrel: clothes, dishes, canned goods. "I'm packing a barrel for the Red Cross Relief, Tommy. There are many hungry boys and girls these days."

Tommy had never felt the pangs of hunger. He scratched his head and thought—hard, then dashed back up the stairs two at a time, flinging a last word to his mother. "Never mind the old shirt. I won't need it." At the front door a gang of impatient boys had congregated. "For the love o' Pete, Tom," said Bill disgustedly. "Aren't you ready? We'll be late for the first show."

"Say, Gang," said Tom. "I gotta idea. Come out to the garage." Tom was ring leader of the gang and his ideas were appreciated accordingly, so out the boys ran, pell-mell, into the garage. All was quiet behind the closed doors.

Monday morning a gang of embarrassed boys filed sedately into the office of the school principal.

"Say, Miss Towner," stammered Tom. "Us fellows . . . us fellows . . . well, we aren't going to the show for a month. Here . . . take this" and he shoved a bulky envelope toward the amazed principal. "It's for milk . . . for kids."

The boys fled to their respective rooms. Miss Towner sat and looked at the envelope. "The hope of America," she whispered softly.

Come across, Boy Scouts. Here's your chance.

THOSE of us who were fortunate enough to enjoy the visit to the Harbor Fire

Boats can boast of having a wonderful time and seeing lots of everyone was thrilled at the demonstration given by the firemen of the fire boat and the friendly way they treated us. After showing us over the boat in a very thorough manner, we were invited for a ride in the firemen's private launch, which took us all around the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors, and finally for a visit to the airplane carrier "Lexington."

While skipping over the water in the launch, Milt Steinberger was greatly interested in the Henry Ford plant as we passed it, when suddenly he was sprayed with a cloud of CO2 that had all the appearances of a ruined blue serge coat. The expression on Milt's face showed fire and 'twas only by the coolness of the Los Angeles firemen aboard that a hot time was avoided.

The fire alarm of last week was short of a fire, but there was plenty of hose laid and Louie said that he could guess who was in charge. He said "I never see it do when Chorge Norris got sum-ding to do mit, dot der iss all der hose off."

Well, anyway, we had lots of help to put it back. Vin Fleming had two of his able assistants with him and he put them to work while he looked on.

The Police Department was kept plenty busy on Halloween night, but as they had the two Bobs of the fire department assisting them, everything went along pretty smooth.

This is the early part of November, which reminds us that Christmas is very near, so get prepared for that ticket for the Firemen's Christmas Dance.

This is not a regular meeting night, but if you are one of those poor, deluded mortals who believe the only calls that firemen respond to are fire calls, drop into the headquarters, prepare a lunch or meal and send out a 'phone call. You'll be surprised at the response.

MOTORISTS ASKED TO DELAY APPLICATION FOR NEW LICENSES

Motor car owners of California were asked today by Russell Bevans, registrar of the Department of Motor Vehicles, to wait until December 1st before mailing in applications for 1932 license plates.

Several hundred applications have already been received at this early date, Bevans said, although it is unlikely that any plates will be mailed out until after Christmas.

Such applications not only cause extra work in the renewal offices but are also deprived of their certificates of registration for several weeks inasmuch as the certificate is mailed in when the application is filed.

—a snake that measured 22 feet in length.

Favorite Recipes of Sierra Madreans

THIS RECIPE for Eggs Monticello is a favorite with Mrs. Anne Shaw and is equally acceptable as an entree or served separately as a luncheon or supper dish. The method:

Put into a hot serving dish enough creamed Irish potatoes to make a lining 1/2 inch thick on bottom. Put over this a generous layer of creamed spinach or plain boiled spinach; next a slice of broiled ham for each person to be served and on each slice of ham a poached egg. Sprinkle with a little grated cheese and pour a rich cream sauce over all. Slip into the oven for a moment. Sprinkle with paprika and serve. Care must be taken to have every ingredient hot. Toast may be substituted for Irish potatoes.

MILK FROM LOCAL DAIRY MAKES HIGH SCORE IN CONTEST

Symbolic of its name, the Model Dairy operated by David Christy, scored 95 out of a possible hundred in the Grade A raw milk class in the surprise milk scoring contest recently completed by the State Bureau of Dairy Control, Department of Agriculture.

The purity of the milk from the Model Dairy, according to the State score, showed a cleanliness in the bacteria count higher than the standard set for milk that is certified.

The samples from which the tests were made were taken from the delivery wagons at various times during the past six months. This report is considered the best kind of testimony for excellence, purity and quality and reflects much credit on the ability of Mr. Christy.

We read of a young woman who shot her husband the day after their marriage, probably having in mind the slogan: "Eventually, why not now?"
